WHAT IS PUBLIC PRACTICE?

Public practitioners are the public face of CPA Australia.

Public practitioners deal with a broad range of clients, from individual taxpayers to large businesses. They provide a range of accounting services to the public.

Public practitioners can be involved in (but are not limited to offering services in) the following areas as defined in CPA Australia's By-Laws:

- accounting
- auditing and assurance services
- bookkeeping
- consumer and commercial credit services
- financial planning/advice
- financial reporting
- forensic accounting
- insolvency and corporate reconstruction
- management accounting
- management consulting
- taxation
- transactional accounting
- valuation services

Public accounting services do not include company secretarial or information technology services – unless such services are provided in conjunction with the activities listed above.

CPA Australia recommends that any member performing external CFO services hold professional indemnity insurance.

What are the benefits of being in public practice?

- a rewarding career offering job satisfaction and self-esteem
- the challenge, interest and flexibility that independence and autonomy offer
 - set your own direction, manage your own time and make your own decisions
- the prospect of financial rewards – reap rewards from the time, skill and money that you invest in your practice
- the ability to leverage off the CPA Australia brand

A photograph of a woman and a man in a bright, modern office. The woman, on the left, is wearing a white, short-sleeved top and is looking towards the man. The man, on the right, is wearing a blue button-down shirt and dark trousers, sitting on a black stool. They are positioned behind a white rectangular table. The background is a large window with a view of greenery outside. The lighting is soft and natural, creating a professional yet friendly atmosphere.

"I ENJOYED BEING ABLE TO BRING MY OWN PERSONALITY TO THE PRACTICE, FROM THE DESIGN OF THE OFFICE TO MY RELATIONSHIPS WITH STAFF AND CLIENTS. CLIENTS ALSO RESPONDED TO THE FRIENDLY ATMOSPHERE WHICH WAS REFLECTED IN THEIR LOYALTY AND APPRECIATION."

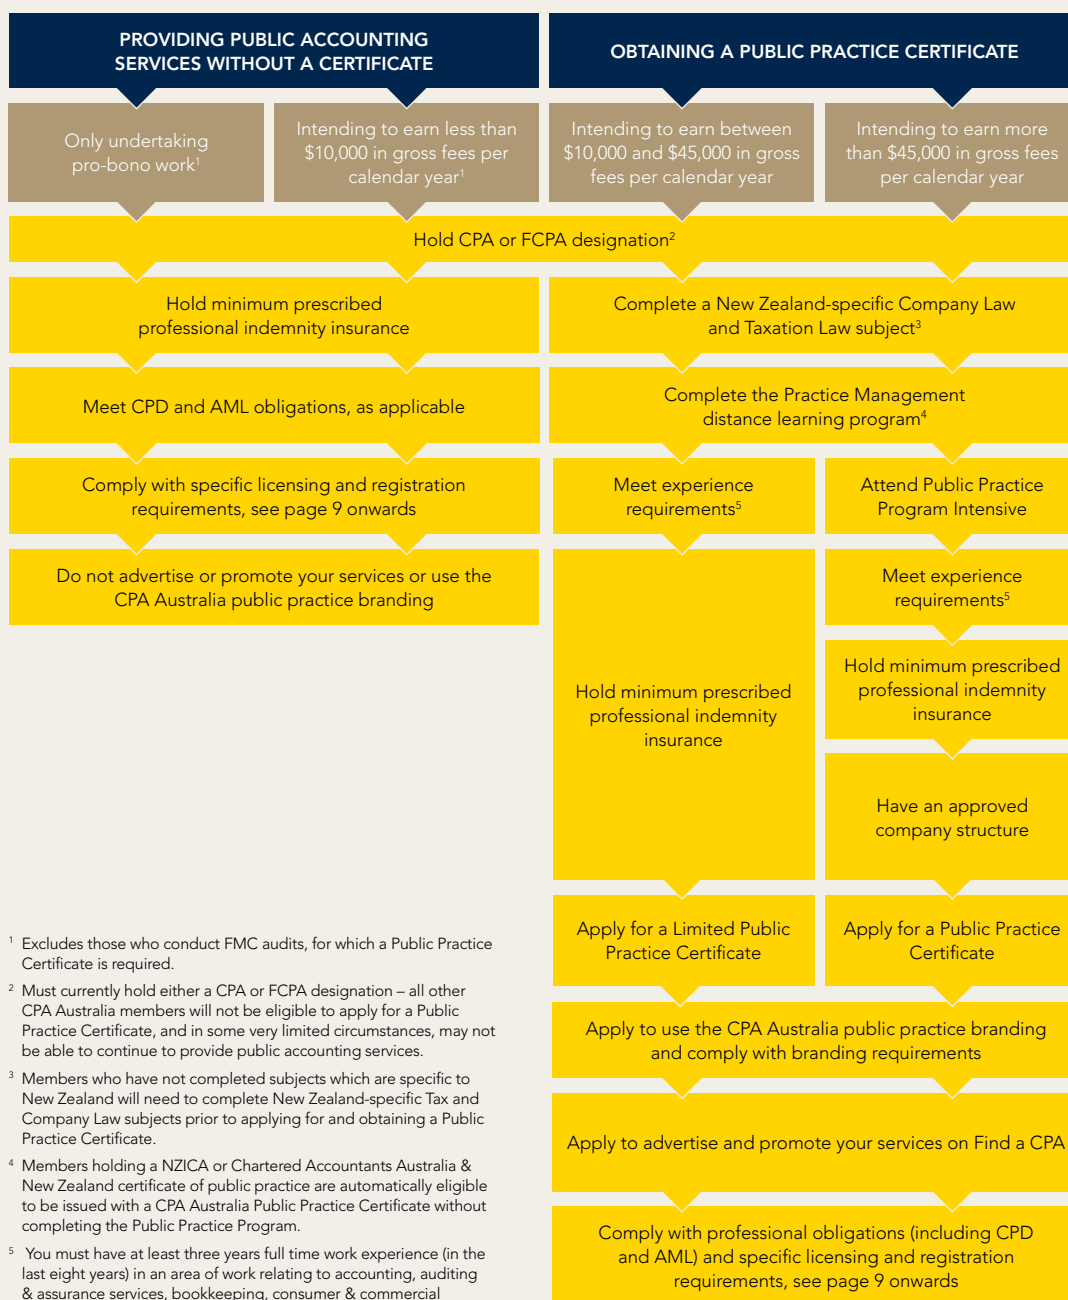

FAY KAIRN OAM FCPA

Fay received her Order of Australia medal for providing accounting services for Not-for Profit Groups, a service she was able to easily provide because she had her own business.

PUBLIC PRACTICE PATHWAYS IN NEW ZEALAND

The following diagram represents the various initial pathways available to a CPA or FCPA to become a public practitioner, based on gross yearly fees earned from the provision of public accounting services in New Zealand.

Under CPA Australia’s By-Law 9.1 (c) any member providing public accounting services into New Zealand must hold a Public Practice Certificate, no matter where in the world they are located.

¹ Excludes those who conduct FMC audits, for which a Public Practice Certificate is required.

² Must currently hold either a CPA or FCPA designation – all other CPA Australia members will not be eligible to apply for a Public Practice Certificate, and in some very limited circumstances, may not be able to continue to provide public accounting services.

³ Members who have not completed subjects which are specific to New Zealand will need to complete New Zealand-specific Tax and Company Law subjects prior to applying for and obtaining a Public Practice Certificate.

⁴ Members holding a NZICA or Chartered Accountants Australia & New Zealand certificate of public practice are automatically eligible to be issued with a CPA Australia Public Practice Certificate without completing the Public Practice Program.

⁵ You must have at least three years full time work experience (in the last eight years) in an area of work relating to accounting, auditing & assurance services, bookkeeping, consumer & commercial credit services, financial planning/advice, financial reporting, forensic accounting, insolvency & corporate reconstruction, management accounting, management consulting, taxation, transactional accounting or valuation services; or have at least three years full time work experience (in the last eight years) in providing public accounting services.

PUBLIC PRACTICE CERTIFICATE (PPC)

Members who are applying for a Public Practice Certificate must first complete the Public Practice Program, which consists of:

- a. Practice Management distance learning program
- b. Public Practice Program Intensive

A. PRACTICE MANAGEMENT DISTANCE LEARNING PROGRAM

The Public Practice Program has been developed to help members establish themselves in public practice. It builds on the technical expertise and experience gained from the CPA Program and through hands-on business experience. It focuses on non technical skills such as strategic planning, marketing, risk management and quality assurance as well as practice development.

Practice Management is offered by distance learning mode only. It is the equivalent of a one semester postgraduate unit of study. Total hours of study required will depend on a candidate's capabilities and individual study technique. As a general guideline, a minimum of 10 to 15 hours per week over a 12 week period is required.

Formal assessment for the distance learning component is by a three hour, open book exam. The exam includes multiple choice questions and written response questions based on case studies.

Modules

- Module 1 – An introduction to public practice
- Module 2 – Ethics, professionalism and risk management in public practice
- Module 3 – Planning an independent practice – the 'big picture'
- Module 4 – Creating a business plan that fits your strategic plan
- Module 5 – Developing a people strategy
- Module 6 – A finance plan within your strategic plan
- Module 7 – Building and growing a practice
- Module 8 – CPA Australia support services (non-assessable module from Semester 2, 2015)

B. PUBLIC PRACTICE PROGRAM INTENSIVE

You must attend a two-day intensive course. You can attend an intensive in the same semester you are enrolled in the distance learning component of the Public Practice Program or after completing the examination. You cannot attend the intensive before enrolment in the Practice Management distance learning program.

The intensive component is divided into several topics and interactive sessions, including syndicate group exercises. The emphasis is on providing professional accounting and advisory services in a practice environment, utilising technical and communication skills.

Topics

- Topic 1 – Your public practice
- Topic 2 – Strategic and business planning
- Topic 3 – Financial issues in establishing a practice and calculating charge out rates
- Topic 4 – Ethics
- Topic 5 – Risk management in your practice
- Topic 6 – Building and growing your practice

PUBLIC PRACTICE CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS

Public Practice Certificate holders must abide by the CPA Australia Constitution, By-Laws, technical standards, Code of Professional Conduct (APES 110) and any laws, statutes, regulations, ordinances, codes, standards and requirements of any government or semi-government body and policies which apply to a member providing public accounting services.

In addition, as a certificate holder, you must:

Meet fit and proper requirements

In addition to the ongoing fit and proper requirements of your membership, you must meet any additional fit and proper requirements which apply to members holding statutory registrations, licences or authorisations.

Have a compliant practice structure

Your practice structure needs to comply with CPA Australia's By-Laws. Please note that if you trade with a non-member you will need to apply for an authority to trade with that non-member.

Meet professional indemnity (PI) insurance requirements

You must hold professional indemnity insurance and the policy must indemnify the member and the practice. The minimum sum insured shall be as stipulated in CPA Australia's By-Laws or as prescribed by any other legislative enactment. The member shall produce proof satisfactory to CPA Australia that such insurance is held. Other specific terms that the policy must include may be found in CPA Australia's By-Law 9.8 including, but not limited to, multiple automatic reinstatement and cover for all persons affiliated with the practice.

Participate in the Quality Review Program

You must participate in CPA Australia's Quality Review Program and comply with the APES 320 Quality Control for Firms and APES 325 Risk Management for Firms.

Undertake continuing professional development (CPD)

You must undertake 120 hours of CPD per triennium, completing a minimum of 20 hours per year.

LICENSING REQUIREMENTS AND SUPPORT SERVICES

LICENSING AND REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS

Some additional regulatory and licensing requirements apply to operators in specific sectors. An outline of these specific sector requirements, which apply to operators based in New Zealand, can be found in CPA Australia's Licences and Registrations for Public Practitioners in New Zealand document.
